

What's wrong with the senate? The question is answered in the following story by a United States senator, as the concluding installment of his remarkable story of his career and life in the senate.

CHAPTER VI.

Washington — The Senator sat down at his desk to write, for this final chapter of his story, the answer to these questions:

1—What is the worst thing about the senate?

2—What is the best thing?

3—If you had the making over of the senate, what would you do about it?

He wrote this answer to the first: "It has grown away from the people, and it lacks courage."

To the second he replied: "It's friendship."

Over the third he pondered a long time, getting up to stand looking out of his window, his back to the room his eyes far away. Finally, he wrote: "I said in the beginning that I am a failure, in my own eyes, as a senator of the United States. Therefore, I am a poor one to make over the senate. But, from my experience, I think I can say that these things would improve the senate:

"First, make it a one-term body, with that term at least eight, and possibly twelve years long.

"Second, elect no man Senator who previously has held any office higher than a county officer.

"Third, elect no man Senator who had not been a conspicuous success in some business or profession.

"First, I would make the senate a one-term body so that senators would not have to be politicians, and I'd make that term long enough to give them a chance for experience and real usefulness.

"Then I would bar out mediocrities, so far as possible, by insisting that to qualify for senatorial honors, a man must have become successful. I do not mean rich—I mean he must have made his mark in some decided way, must have shown intelligence and courage, and the ability to think straight.

"Did I hear you laugh? No? I expected you to. Can you imagine a senate picked like that? Not a chance. I hear the politicians whispering, while others, less kind, say of me in the argot of the day, that 'that bird is cuckoo.'"

COMBINED LOCKS SCHOOL DAMAGED BY FIRE AT NIGHT

Blaze is Discovered After Meeting of Chamber of Commerce

Fire started after midnight partially destroyed the state graded school at Combined Locks early Tuesday morning. The blaze was discovered about 5:30 in the morning and village residents notified by blasts from the Combined Locks Paper Co. mill whistle.

A meeting of the Combined Locks Chamber of Commerce was held Monday evening in the eighth grade room, where the largest damage was caused by fire. It is believed that the fire started from a cigar stub carelessly thrown away. There was no indication of trouble when the last men left the school near 11 o'clock.

The main, Victoria and other necessary equipment was saved from the burning school. An effort was to be made Tuesday afternoon to combine all the grades in one room and resume classes.

The school was a two room structure. Miss Winifred Ryan is the principal.

WINNER OF HOTEL LOTTERY IS LOSER

Chippewa Falls. — Legal right to property cannot be acquired through a lottery. Circuit Judge James Wickman ruled on Monday in a decision in the litigation over the $225,000 Great Northern hotel, raffled off by the Elks' lodge of Chippewa Falls last summer.

The forfeiture feature of the state lottery statute is unconstitutional, Judge Wickman held, and the state is not given the property. Lotteries are in violation of the criminal law and operation of lotteries hence can be punished by only criminal penalties, the court held.

The Elks keep the money obtained through the lottery; Peter Layman, Junction City, who held the "winning" number, keeps his ticket as a souvenir, while the property, under the court's decision, remains in the hands of the stockholders of the Chippewa Falls Hotel company.

Judge Wickman found that the title to the property has not passed from the hands of the hotel company.

LAYMAN'S HANDS ARE TIED

This seems to be the ending of the famous case, as W. W. Gilman, assistant attorney general, who argued the case for the state, stated that if the case were decided against the state, the action would not be prosecuted further while Layman, who won the prize, is barred from any legal action to secure title to the hotel by Judge Wickman's finding that the transaction came under that section of the statutes that provides that all contracts, agreements, mortgages and conveyances based on gambling transactions are void.

GREAT TOLL OF LIVES IN BIG BATTLE

More Than Thousand Men Fall in Fighting at Gates of Peking

CONTINUE DRIVE FOR CITY

Charge Japanese Gun Pointers Assisting Manchurian Artillerymen

Shanghai. — More than one thousand soldiers of the army of General Wu Pei fu fell in battle before Chang Sin Tien Monday, according to an official communiqué issued by the Wu Pei fu headquarters at Chochow Tuesday.

The chief of staff of the central army declared the encircling movement of Wu Pei fu's forces southwest of Peking, had been frustrated by the superior artillery fire of the Chang Tsin Lo forces.

Japanese gun pointers are assisting the artillerymen of Chang's Manchurian army, according to a statement from Wu Pei fu's headquarters and this accounts for the superior accuracy of the northern artillery, which has turned an apparent victory into a costly check.

Fresh attacks along a long battle front before Chang Sin Tien were launched Tuesday.

By Associated Press

Peking — Wu Pei fu's drive for Peking was vigorously resumed in the vicinity of Chang Sin Tien, 12 miles south of the capital yesterday afternoon, the Chihliites attacking gallantly and striving to turn both of the enemies flanks.

The Fengtien army under Chang Tsin Lo at first were handicapped by the shortage of ammunition but staved off the attacks until supplies were brought up. The Chihliites were unable to make headway against this opposition and eventually retired to Lulin, 15 miles to the southwest last night.

The casualties of the Fengtieners were severe and the Chang Sin Tien station is filled with wounded. No details have been received regarding the losses of the Chihliites.

There has also been brisk fighting on the Hun river at Kuan, 40 miles south of the Capital, the Chihliites driving General Chang's forces from the town.

It is reported that General Tung Cheng Kua of the Chihliite forces and General Lin Chou Tung of the Fengtieners were killed.

SEND DELEGATES TO WATERWORKS MEET

Water Department Showed Profit of $2,448 in March, Report Shows

Fred R. Morris, secretary of the Water commission, and A. J. Hall, superintendent of the waterworks plant, were authorized to attend the national waterworks convention at Philadelphia, May 15 to 19, at a meeting of the commission in the city hall Monday afternoon, the first to be attended by Mayor Henry Reuter as a new member of the commission.

The accountant's report for March showed a profit of $2,448.22. A payroll of $4,441.14 was ordered paid.

The job of printing 5,000 booklets containing the rules of the department, authorized by the railroad commission and by the water commission on April 1.

A request for rental of the old pumping station by a local manufacturing concern for manufacture of mechanical potato peelers was deferred. The new intake and receiving basin, just constructed, was approved. Discussing the heating system at the pumping station, the commission decided to seek the advice of a competent engineer on how to operate it more economically.

A petition will be presented to the city council Wednesday evening that it be made a misdemeanor to tamper with the fire hydrants.

NAME COMMITTEES FOR CONVENTION

The annual convention of the Wisconsin Shoe Dealers association will be held in Appleton August 8, 9 and 10. At a meeting of about 15 local shoe men Monday evening in Hotel Appleton, preliminary plans were made and committees were appointed. The meeting followed a banquet.

George Dame was appointed chairman of the advertising committee and Herman Hecker chairman of the reception and entertainment committee.

About 500 shoe men are expected here every day from all over Wisconsin. Much of the convention will be of interest only to shoe men but there will be entertainment to which the public will be invited. The Weyenberg Shoe factory of Milwaukee is expected to bring a crack baseball team which will meet a team from this vicinity. The factory representatives also will be accompanied by a band.

Meetings of committees will be held within a few weeks.

Clothiers Plan Radical Changes In Men's Styles

By United Press Leased Wire

Chicago. — An age of innocence in men's styles was forecast at the opening of the United National Clothiers' convention here Tuesday.

Among the conspicuous exhibits, which clothiers said would be much in demand were:

The durable night shirt, with a splash of red tape at the throat, in preference to roughish pajamas.

Suspenders. Sleeve supporters, with blue and pink the favored colors.

Trouser leg bottoms cutless. Shoes, square toed, flat heeled, solidly built.

Rubbers. The only dash of color in the displays were the linings of the top coats. No matter how conservative the outside shades, the linings were of pale blue, vermillion, hectic pink or brilliant orange.

U. S. OFFICIALS REGRET REMOVAL OF M. JUSSERAND

Recall of French Ambassador Not Regarded as Significant at Capitol

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1922, by Post Pub. Co.

Washington. — Premier Poincaré's decision to change ambassadors at Washington is regarded as significant only if French policy is to be changed in which case it would appear that more harm than good will be done by the removal of Jules Jusserand.

Back of the efforts to oust M. Jusserand which has been going on for the last four years is an interesting story. The French ambassador has not done some of the things which in his judgment would hurt France's relations with America. He has not liked the idea of propaganda because he knew Americans didn't like that method of conducting governmental relations. The criticism of M. Jusserand for not doing certain things that French politicians believed should be done in America have had much to do with the decisions to change ambassadors.

BLAMES JUSSERAND

France is just waking up to the fact that her relations with America are full of misunderstandings. She is blaming the ambassador at Washington for it. The truth is France has changed administrations so often that no ambassador at Washington will be able to reflect the French viewpoint with conviction until stability is attained. During the recent arms conference, France had three men at the head of her delegation. There was no consistency in the delegation she sent here. First Premier Briand was in charge. He left René Viviani, who in turn took a casual interest in what was going on and made preparations to sail for home the day he was made head of the delegation. Finally M. Sarraut was put in charge with disastrous results. He knew very little of what had been going on and knew much less how to deal with American officials.

On top of this there was political turmoil in France. The Briand ministry was overthrown. M. Jusserand has had to contend with that kind of thing from the very French viewpoint.

He no sooner explained a census matter and he must often make a new presentation of a case.

Under the circumstances the agility of M. Jusserand has been a source of much admiration in official Washington. For years he has maintained excellent relations with every American administration. He played tennis with President Roosevelt, was an intimate friend of President Taft and was on confidential terms with President Wilson. Since the Harding administration began he has had access to Secretary Hughes and President Harding and has continued on a plane of personal intimacy with the government.

PEGGY JOYCE IS CAUSE OF TRAGEDY

Wealthy Young Chilean Kills Self When Suit is Rejected by Actress

By United Press Leased Wire

Paris. — Police Tuesday started an investigation of the statement of Peggy Hopkins Joyce that William Errazuriz, young Chilean diplomat, killed himself in a room next to her suite in the Hotel Claridge because she rejected his ardent love.

Errazuriz, whose sister, Blanca De Saulles, caused a tremendous sensation in America in 1917 by slaying her husband, wealthy society man and former Yale athlete, was found dying Sunday with a revolver grasped in his hand. It was at first a mystery.

Then Peggy Hopkins Joyce, whose matrimonial adventures have gained fame for her on two continents, came forward and told a dramatic story of her last night with young Errazuriz.

She told of frantic court paid by the wealthy youth, and of how he had been insanely jealous of the attentions shown her by Henri Letellier, owner of LeJournal, whom Peggy says she intends to wed.

ITALY MAKES SECRET PACT WITH TURKEY

Rome and Nationalists Government at Angora Draw Political Treaty

ENGLAND IS DISPLEASED

London Newspaper Declares Consequences Likely to be Serious

By Associated Press

London. — The Pall Mall Gazette and Globe today say it has just learned that Italy, following France's example has made a secret political pact with the Turkish nationalists government at Angora, "behind Great Britain's back."

"Full disclosure of this has only just been made" says the newspaper, "though it has been suspected for some time. The consequences are likely to be serious."

The newspaper says Italy's withdrawal of her troops from Scala Nova and the Meander Valley in Asia Minor, as was reported in a Constantinian dispatch of April 18, was effected by an agreement with the Turks. The Turks were informed beforehand of this movement, it says, similar knowledge being denied to the Greeks whose flank was left dangerously exposed. The newspaper says the Italians in return received necessary consideration in the shape of a concession in the Meander Valley and the eastern villages of Van, Bitlis and Erzerum.

Italy has also undertaken, it continues, to press for further favors from the entente to Turkey relating to Thrace, some allied commissions of control at Constantinople and curtailment of capitulations. Italy also consented to the extension of local self government and other privileges for her Moslem dependencies. The Angora government in return pledged to refrain from anti-Italian propaganda there.

The matter will be referred to the minister of finance who is expected to prepare a reply to submit to the cabinet for its approval. Frenchmen here believe it unlikely that M. Poincaré will agree to talk reparations at Angora.

The sub commission on Russian affairs was to meet this afternoon for final approval of the memorandum to the Russians, the details of which were completed late last night. The memorandum will probably be sent to the Russian minister in the day.

The document provides for establishment of a mixed arbitral commission for controlling the debts owed to holders of Russian government bonds, of which of which would be named by the chief justice of the United States supreme court. Mixed tribunals would be set up to deal with the question of the property of foreigners in Russia which has been nationalized.

Belgium alone was against the latter feature, France abandoning her objections to Great Britain's project. The Belgians insisted on restitution of nationalized property to its former owners.

PROBE DEATH OF THREE HUSBANDS

Police Believe Cleveland Woman Has Killed Men to Collect Insurance

Cleveland, O. — Searching investigation Tuesday was turned on the mysterious deaths in the last five years of three husbands of a Cleveland woman whose name is being withheld by police.

County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton early Tuesday ordered the body of the last husband, an ex-soldier, exhumed for examination.

"If traces of poison are found," he declared, "we will have unearthed what I believe to be at least a triple murder."

Stanton said the woman, married six times, had collected $11,000 insurance following the deaths of her last three husbands.

Two children by her first husband died of poison said to have been taken accidentally, the prosecutor said.

The woman is being held on other charges pending the investigation.

MANY IRISH KILLED DURING PAST YEAR

Belfast. — According to Belfast police returns made public today 148 protestants and 153 Catholics were killed in Belfast from July 1, 1920 to April 29, 1922. From January 1 of this year, to April 29, the figures show 51 protestants and 69 Catholics killed.

A postman was killed and his son wounded when ambushed last evening while delivering letters in the Kedy district of Armagh.

MURDER AND SUICIDE VERDICT IN TRAGEDY

Port Washington. — Murder and suicide was the verdict of the coroner's jury in the tragedy which ended the lives of Peter Gibbs and his fiancée, Kathryn Watery, April 22.

Friends of Gibbs declared after the verdict that they were not satisfied and that they would take further steps to clear the name of their friend.

Jim And Buster Victims Of Dog Poisoning Maniacs

"Jim" is no more. Neither is "Buster." Don't you know "Jim" and "Buster?" "Jim" is the custodian of Appleton's custodian of the law Judge A. M. Spencer, while "Buster" is the beloved companion of Miss Margaret Keller, daughter of Postmaster Gustave Keller.

Both met their death prematurely Sunday and Monday as the result of poison. Mr. Keller's Scotch collie came home Sunday evening, visibly ill. He was taken at once to a veterinarian but the poison had already taken too great a hold on the dog. He died an hour later. The veterinarian pronounced it a case of strychnine poisoning. "Buster" was a very intelligent dog and has been the family pet for the last seven years. Monday morning Judge Spencer's dog showed similar symptoms. He began to stiffen in the legs and became partially blind. He too was taken to a veterinarian, but too late to be saved. The doctor believes that both dogs died of the same poison. Thus far it has been impossible to ascertain where poison was picked up.

"Jim" was a great pet of his court-house officials and employees. The judge was considerably downcast over the loss of the dog that had accompanied him on many a hunt. He has offered $100 for the arrest and conviction of the person who was responsible for the poisoning, and heaven help the person if he lands in Judge Spencer's court.

ALLIES READY WITH NOTE ON SOVIET DEBTS

Details of Memorandum Complete and Will be Dispatched Tuesday

By Associated Press

Genoa. — Premier Poincaré of France may come to Genoa for the closing sessions of the economic conference. President Millerand's return from his African trip will make it possible for the premier to leave the capital and the question whether he will join the other premiers here will be one of the subjects he will discuss with M. Barthelemy, head of the French delegation here, who is leaving today for several days conferences in Paris.

The most important question to be talked over by M. Barthou and his chief, it is understood, is that of France's attitude on the nonaggression pact proposed by the British premier.

Whether M. Poincaré will consent to a meeting of the signatories of the treaty of Versailles to discuss German reparations before May 31, is another subject for the parley in Paris.

The matter will be referred to the minister of finance who is expected to prepare a reply to submit to the cabinet for its approval. Frenchmen here believe it unlikely that M. Poincaré will agree to talk reparations at Angora.

The sub commission on Russian affairs was to meet this afternoon for final approval of the memorandum to the Russians, the details of which were completed late last night. The memorandum will probably be sent to the Russian minister in the day.

The document provides for establishment of a mixed arbitral commission for controlling the debts owed to holders of Russian government bonds, of which of which would be named by the chief justice of the United States supreme court. CHILD IS KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE TRUCK

The seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Froelich, who live between Bear Creek and Clintonville on highway 39, was instantly killed Monday morning when she was struck by an automobile truck driven by a Mr. Seaman of Clintonville.

The child was being taken to school in an automobile which passed her on the road. When she alighted from that car she walked around it to get to the school house and did not see the approaching truck which struck her and the wheels passed over her body. She was instantly killed.

The child is survived by her parents and one older brother.

It is said the accident was witnessed by a number of children at the school.

CHICAGO POLITICAL FEUD CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTIM

Chicago. — Political feud in Chicago's nineteenth ward claimed its twenty-first victim Tuesday.

The lifeless body of DeAnnunzio Romano, an Italian, was found by school children in a narrow passage between two dilapidated buildings.

Five bullets had been fired into the body.

ONE GAS VICTIM LEAVES HOSPITAL

Alfred Rasmussen, foreman for Mierswa Construction company, who was overcome by gas from the Atlantic St. sewer trench Monday, was able to leave St. Elizabeth hospital Monday.

Kenneth Pongratz, whose condition was more serious because of lung congestion, still is in the hospital but is making rapid progress toward recovery.

William Beckman was the third man to put on a gas mask and descend into the sewer death trap following the accident Monday. It was learned Tuesday that Beckman was a bystander, and seeing the firemen exhausted from their rescue efforts, donned the mask and was successful in placing a rope around Rasmussen's body. He then came up out of the opening ready to go down again if any more victims had been below.

The sum of $58.20 is a high price for a few fish, but that is what Andrew Barth of the town of Maine paid in municipal court Monday, when he was fined $50 and costs for spearing pike on April 14. When arraigned before Judge A. M. Spencer April 17 he pleaded not guilty. He agreed to pay the fine, he said rather than incur the expense of trial.

He Never Had Any Exitement Until Married

By Associated Press

Chicago. — Charging Hawk, a full blooded Sioux Indian, told Judge Adams of the court of domestic relations he had been in the army four years and served as a policeman on the Sioux reservation for three years but he had never had so much excitement in his life as the time since he got married.

"My wife like variety too much for me," he told the judge. "She been married four times—to a German, a Mexican, a Chinaman and then me. I can't keep up with her. She had too much experience."

Mrs. Ethel Charging Hawk declared she had not received a dollar for the support of herself or her two children, both by former marriages—since she married the Sioux. Judge Adams took their case under advisement.

REPUBLICANS IN SENATE AGREE ON BONUS BILL

As Tentatively Framed Plan is Modification of Measure Passed in House

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington. — Senate finance committee Republicans Tuesday tentatively agreed on a soldier bonus bill. They will submit the plan to President Harding probably late Tuesday.

As tentatively framed, the plan is a modification of the bill passed by the house.

It provides for paying the bonus by means of a twenty year certificate which are to have a loan value of 50 per cent of their face value immediately.

In three years this value will increase to eighty per cent.

In six years the certificates are to increase twenty-five per cent in value and at that time the loan value will be seventy-five per cent of the new face value.

At the end of twenty years the holder of the certificate can take the money due him either in cash or in annuities.

The committee discarded the Smoot plan, providing for a straight 20-year insurance with no borrowing value.

Figures on the cost of the plan agreed upon, submitted by committee experts, showed that the first year it would cost $77,000,000, the second year $920,000,000, the third $75,000,000, the fourth $375,000,000 due to the increased borrowing value. By 1943 the total cost would be $1,135,000,000 and by 1965, $3,545,000,000. By that time, it is estimated, all annuities and cash redemptions would have been paid.

Senator Watson, Indiana, said the committee would do nothing further until Harding's approval has been obtained because, he said, committee members do not wish to run any danger of a veto.

COME HERE AFTER WARRANTS TO TAKE COCK FIGHT FANS

Milwaukee Men Seek Arrest of Men Involved in Little Chute Affair

The Rev. Frank R. Dunkley, Milwaukee, vice president of the Wisconsin Humane society and A. E. Frederiek, state humane officer, appeared in the office of Fred V. Heinemann, district attorney, Tuesday, ready to take up arms against all spectators and participants in the cock fight at Little Chute April 2.

The cock fight was raided by the Rev. Mr. Dunkley and Zachariah Clayton, superintendent of the humane society, with the result that several spectators turned upon the humane agents to "beat them up," it is alleged. Warrants were secured Tuesday for the arrest of a number of people. About 300 people are involved, Mr. Heinemann said.

Names of men for whom warrants were requested would not be divulged by the district attorney nor the humane society officers. The warrants had not been given to the sheriff to serve at a late hour this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Niehaus and Mr. and Mrs. Nic Watery of Seymour, were guests of Appleton friends Sunday.

G.O.P. PLANS STIFF FIGHTS IN ELECTIONS

New and More Aggressive Policy Announced for This Year by Leaders

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington. — Republican campaign leaders took the occasion of the Indiana primary Tuesday to announce a new and more aggressive policy for this year's election.

While Senator New, Indiana, was fighting at the polls in his home state against former Senator Beveridge for the Republican nomination, Senator McCormick, Illinois, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, announced here:

"That the Republicans intend to fight for 23 of the 33 senate seats that will be filled this year."

"That the senatorial campaign committee will take a more active part than ever before in directing the campaign."

That the issues and events of the various state campaigns will be kept constantly before the public by means of conferences between McCormick and the press.

In four southern states McCormick's committee will make no fight. They are Virginia, Florida, Mississippi and Texas. But in such border states as Tennessee, Arizona and New Mexico, in all of which Democratic senators come up this year for reelection, the Republicans will make unusually strenuous efforts, McCormick said.

Four members of the survey committee, C. J. Anderson, assistant state superintendent of schools, J. G. Gilles, high school supervisor, state department of public instruction, Thomas Lloyd Jones, chairman of committee on high school relations, University of Wisconsin, and J. W. Schmidt, high school supervisor, state department of public instruction, were present and took turns at presenting portions of the report. The fifth member, Miss Margaret Johnston, supervisor of home economics, state board of vocational education, was not present.

ANSWER 28 QUESTIONS

Twenty-eight questions asked by the joint committee of the common council and the school board were answered in a comprehensive and detailed form in the report. Figures showing how Appleton ranks with respect to 21 other larger cities of Wisconsin as to school costs, taxation, school enrollment and attendance and other matters were included, together with graphs, charts and maps covering many of the points. Alderman August Laabs, chairman of the joint committee, presided. Very little discussion followed the 3-hour presentation of the report. Every question seeming to have been covered by the mass of data compiled in the investigation here.

Continuing the present 4-year high school plan and building an addition to the building, as suggested by some, would give eight more class rooms and two large basement rooms, the report said. This would give the school a standard capacity of 1,100 pupils. It would mean, at the present rate of enrollment, that the city would spend $140,000 to remodel its building and these improvements would suffice for only two years, when the number of pupils

REUTER URGES OBSERVANCE OF ARBOR DAY HERE

Mayor's First Proclamation Urges Tree Planting on Friday

In his first proclamation as mayor of Appleton, Mayor Henry Reuter has set aside Friday, May 5, as Arbor and Bird day, urging all citizens to observe the day as a time of promoting respect for trees, the study of arbor culture, the beautifying of parks and roads and protection of wild life.

President Harding in his proclamation had designated April 22 as Arbor day. But this date was considered too early for Wisconsin in view of its late and cold spring. Governor Blaine therefore changed the time to May 5. This will be the fifth anniversary of the first observance of Arbor Day. It was instituted by the governor of Nebraska in 1872. He deplored the fact that that state should be almost treeless and that other states were permitting the widespread destruction of timber.

Mayor Reuter's proclamation follows: "Whereas, the Hon. John J. Blaine, Governor of Wisconsin, has designated the first Friday in May as Arbor and Bird Day, as provided by law, and

"Whereas, there is a great need of cultivating the spirit of reverence for tree and forest and the protection of wild life, and

"Whereas, it has been the custom to observe such a day in various schools and institutions;

Therefore, I, Henry Reuter, Mayor of Appleton, do hereby set apart Friday, May 5, 1922, as Arbor and Bird day, and urge upon all employees of the city of Appleton, its citizens and institutions the respectful observance of the day as a time of promoting the planting of trees and shrubbery, beautifying of parks, school grounds and roadways, and also request that appropriate exercises be held in the schools teaching the importance of arbor culture and the protection of wild life."

NEW STAGE LIGHTING SYSTEM FOR CHAPEL

When "Penny and the Servant Problem" is presented at Lawrence Memorial chapel on Thursday evening, a new system of stage lighting will be in operation. Under the direction of Prof. F. W. Orr, head of the dramatic and oratory work at the college, new overhead lights have been installed to give more light on the stage. At either side of the curtains, pillars of flood lights have been erected to improve the lighting effects back stage, which have not been well worked out in the past because of the lack of equipment.

Everything is in readiness for the production of this play which affords many laughs. The date of the play was pushed ahead to the early part of May because of the students in the dramatic department and many others will begin work at once on the program for the college anniversary celebration.

LAWRENCE GETS FRAT CONVENTION

International Journalistic Fraternity to Meet Here Next Year

Lawrence college will be host to the annual convention of the international journalistic fraternity, Delta Epsilon, at its 1923 convention. It was decided at the convention which closed Sunday at the University of Illinois. The University of California and Dartmouth college also extended invitations, but the convention was voted to Lawrence by a big majority.

Prof. W. R. Lindsay, Herbert Mundhenke and Ray Collins attended the convention to represent Lawrence. The fraternity now has 35 chapters, including most of the big universities in the United States and the University of Toronto. In the address given by the retiring president, Lawrence was mentioned with three others as being the most prominent chapters. The Lawrence chapter was especially commended as being active.

More than 40 delegates and the grand council will attend the convention in Appleton next year. The time for the meetings has not been set, but it will take place either at Christmas time or in the spring. The Lawrence chapter is in favor of the spring meeting.

MINISTERS HEAR TALK ON WORK AMONG GIRLS

At the meeting of the Appleton Ministerial association at 10:30 Monday morning at the Y. M. C. A., Prof. E. E. Emme read a paper on "Religious Education." Miss Constance Johnson, recreational director of Appleton Women's club, explained the aims and purposes of the club, and urged upon the ministers a closer cooperation with the club in its attempts to raise the morale of the recreation interests of the city. Miss Johnson told of what the club is doing with girls. She also commended the splendid work of Mrs. Mildred Garner, Appleton's protective officer.

SHERMAN HOUSE TO ADD DINING ROOM

Alterations were begun in the Sherman house this week by which two sample rooms adjacent to the lobby will be converted into a private dining room 18 by 22 feet in size. The room will be ready for use in about a month and will accommodate a group of about 25 people.

It was found by John Conway, proprietor, that the French room was too large for many of dinner gatherings since it was altered some months ago, and that often three or four events are in session at one time. He therefore arranged to build the smaller parlor.

Elaborate interior decorations similar to those in the French room are included in the plans. Ornamental material was purchased in Chicago by Mr. Conway last week. Entrance to the room will be from the passageway between the lobby and the coffee shop.

INK IS HOLDING WORLD TOGETHER

Lawrence Instructor Chides Students for Condemnation of Press

"The country is bound together by printers' ink," said Prof. W. R. Lindsay to Lawrence college students at the chapel hour on Monday. He talked on traditions and how they may narrow the students' vision to the world around them. He led up in his talk to the newspapers, which are the greatest factors in creating public opinion.

"A speaker of last week," said Prof. Lindsay, said that the world belongs to the college man. If that is true, it is strange that the college man seems so loathe to enter into possession. Further, if the college man belongs to the world, it is strange how deaf and blind the average college man is to the world. We are ignorant of the great world and contented, apparently, with our ignorance.

The speaker chided the students for their condemnation of the press since they never think of what they might do to improve any situation which is at present objectionable to them. He urged the students to learn to know and understand the world in which they live since most of the world's troubles are due to lack of understanding, which is caused by lack of knowledge.

REACHES EAST TOO LATE TO SEE BROTHER ALIVE

John Tooland, who left for Scotland from here recently, arrived in the east just too late to see his brother William before death, according to a letter received by Appleton friends. Mr. Tooland had just reached Chicago when word of his brother's death reached him. The funeral was held in New York before the Appleton man arrived there. Decedent was a sailor.

A special meeting of the official council of Mount Olive Evangelical Lutheran church has been called by the Rev. R. E. Ziesemer, pastor, for Friday evening in the church basement.

Miss S. Martensen Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples

"I had a great many pimples on my face. They were very large and itched and burned so that I could not rest at night, and I was always scratching. The trouble lasted about two months. I tried different remedies without any benefit. Seeing an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment I sent for a free sample which seemed to help me so I bought more, and in about two weeks was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Selma Martensen, 4247 So. Campbell Ave., Chicago, Ill., Aug. 18, 1921.

The World's Greatest Heart Interest Drama

"Ten Nights In A Bar Room"

We are living so quickly nowadays that the events of today are soon forgotten. Not so with "Ten Nights in a Barroom," which is a classic of literature, of the stage and the screen. It has been in existence for sixty years. The entire public of America will surely flock to see this picture for many reasons. It certainly is historical as well as dramatic, entertaining and touching, and already other parts of the world are clamoring to see it. Australia, Africa, Europe, all are begging for a sight of this remarkable picture.

LIONS RECEIVE CHARTER AT BIG MEETING MONDAY

Rousing Entertainment is Provided for Appleton and Visiting Cubs

Appleton Lions, with cubs from Green Bay, Fond du Lac and Sheboygan as their guests, were officially affiliated with the international organization when they received their charter from the hands of J. W. Scott, Springfield, Ill., district governor, at a rousing meeting in the Sherman house Monday evening. About 70 men attended the meeting and the banquet which preceded it. Singing, radio program, an address by Mr. Scott and vaudeville entertainment by Harry Oaks, member of the local den and formerly on the vaudeville stage, provided entertainment.

One of the features was singing of "Good Old Lions' Smile", written for the occasion by Mr. Oaks. It is one of the best Lion songs ever written and will be incorporated in the next song pamphlet to be published by the international organization.

A "radio address" from Des Moines, Iowa, was received through a megaphone supplied by Irving Zuelke. The talk was filled with reference to Appleton Lions and was a source of considerable amusement. Members of the Appleton and visiting dens were introduced and every effort was made to stimulate acquaintanceship and good fellowship.

EXTOLLS LIONISM
The spirit of the Lions and similar organizations was extolled by Mr. Scott in his address which accompanied presentation of the charter. Mr. Scott is visiting every den in his district during his term of office as district governor.

He said that two or three decades ago business of all kinds was operated on a basis of destructive competition but in the last few years there has been a growth of constructive cooperation. Organizations like Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis and similar clubs, which admit but one member from a profession or business stimulate this cooperative effort and bind men together to work for the common good.

"Any man who is a member of one of these community clubs and who regulates himself by their code, can not help but be a stronger man and a better citizen," Mr. Scott said. "Any city which has one or more of these clubs flourishing in its midst is bound to be a better and stronger city."

"The age of cooperation is just beginning. It was a privilege to have lived in the last half century, the most remarkable in the history of the world, but it is a greater privilege to be a young man in this half century. In the past many of the extraordinary things were done by extraordinary men working alone but the future holds the greatest promise for ordinary men working together."

BOARD DISCUSSES EMPLOYMENT OF SCHOOL NURSES

Board of Education Believes More Nurses Should be Engaged Here

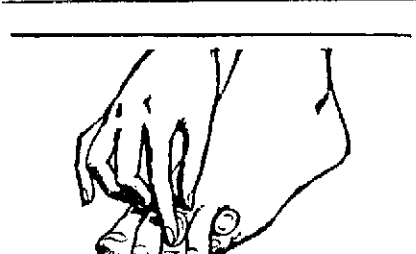

Advisability of the employment of additional school nurses was brought up by J. Henry Harbeck at the meeting of the board of education in Appleton high school Monday afternoon. It was brought out by him the First and Second districts are the only ones that have the benefits of a nurse and he said he understood this nurse was to resign at the end of the school year.

He said it was an injustice to the children of other districts not to have professional services along this line and he was opposed to the expense being borne by the districts. He suggested three, a supervising nurse and two assistants be employed by the city to look after all the school children.

Mayor Henry Reuter expressed the opinion in the event the city employed the nurses that they be made part of the health department under the city physician who would give them additional help, but this plan did not meet with the approval of Mr. Harbeck. He said that would be merging their duties with those of city nurses and he was satisfied they would have all the work they could attend to by looking after school children exclusively.

WANTS DISTRICT NURSE
Paul V. Cary was in hearty accord with additional school nurses, but was of the opinion that more efficient service could be secured by the districts employing them. He realized the need of additional nurses and said the nurse of the First and Second districts had more work than she could do. She not only goes into the schools, but into the homes also, learns conditions and tries to get the cooperation of the parents.

A. G. Koch was in favor of the city employing three school nurses and suggested the board pass a resolution to this effect. Other members of the Third and Fourth districts coincided with Mr. Koch's views regarding the employment by the city of the school nurses but no action was taken, the matter being discussed informally. It is possible the question will be taken up at a meeting of the joint committee of the board of education and common council.

3 NEW TEACHERS ENGAGED FOR HIGH SCHOOL NEXT YEAR

Mayor Reuter Attends His First Meeting — Board is Entertained

Principal Lee C. Rasey announced the engagement of three new high school teachers for next year at the meeting of the board of education in Appleton high school building Monday afternoon. Miss Katherine McCarthy of Madison, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, who is at present teaching at Hudson and Miss Beulah Connell of Mount Horeb, a graduate of the state university who has been teaching in Menasha high school for the last three years will be employed as instructors of history and social science, and Miss Dorothy Zufelt, a graduate of Ripon college, who is teaching at Sheboygan, will teach mathematics and biology.

The meeting was preceded by a luncheon served by the girls of the domestic science department which was attended by the school survey committee of Madison, Messrs. Anderson, Gilles Schmidt and Jones, who made their report before the joint committee of the board of education and common council at the city hall Monday evening, as guests. It was the first meeting attended by Mayor Henry Reuter, who presided. All the members of the board were present. The new executive was elected a member of the committee on teachers and texts.

Bills amounting to $544.90 were allowed. The treasurer's report, read by the clerk, showed 25 cases of

RAILWAY ECONOMICS

Before Justice Brandeis was appointed to the supreme bench of the United States he once made the statement that he could save many millions of dollars annually in the operation of the railroads if he could dictate their policies and direct their management. The railroads of course made fun of the challenge. Mr. Ford and others have made similar statements concerning the railroads, on the theory that as at present managed and operated there are enormous and preventable wastes.

For many years it was apparent to every shipper that the railroads lost annually millions of dollars because of lax methods in the handling of freight. Claims for damage ran into huge figures annually, and still do. The loss from breakage, theft, etc., in the transportation of freight is stupendous. Most of it is due to carelessness. Recently the railroads, alarmed by the amount of loss and damage claims, which in 1920 reached a total of $120,000,000, commenced an intensive campaign solely in the interest of economy in operation. The result was a decrease in loss and damage payments for 1921 of nearly $20,000,000, while it is estimated that the reduction this year, as a direct result of this campaign, will be between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000.

Here is an actual demonstration by the railroads themselves of at least some of the facts charged by Justice Brandeis and Mr. Ford. The $120,000,000 paid out for loss and damage to freight in 1920 was for the most part pure waste. Nearly all of it could have been saved by the careful handling of freight. Every shipper today knows, from the condition of packages, boxes and their contents, whether handled by mail, express or freight, that there is still prodigious and inexcusable waste in the transportation of goods. This waste is purely an extravagance of management charged back to the public in rates and tariffs. It is one of the items that enters into the high cost of transportation.

The railroads used to pay out huge sums annually for the killing and maiming of passengers and the public at large.

This they preferred to do to spending money for protective devices and for the employment of men whose service could be relied upon. They resisted in improvements that would tend to save human life and the number of wrecks was appalling. In due time public opinion made itself felt, safety appliances were adopted and an educational campaign commenced to promote "safety first." These expenditures of money and effort have saved the railroads hundreds of millions of dollars, and hence have contributed to economy of operation.

That there still are many extravagances and much waste in the operation of railroads there is not the slightest question. Hundreds of millions of dollars annually can still be saved, and in due time will be saved, because the public will not indefinitely put up with management or operation that imposes taxes upon it in the form of needlessly high rates.

HELP FOR RUSSIA

The powers are certainly justified in insisting that if Russia wants outside help, Russia must agree to conditions that will make such help practicable.

As far as political recognition is concerned, there should be, of course, no such arrangement without acceptance by the soviet government of the usual responsibilities assumed by governments in their dealings with each other. The soviet heretofore has wanted all of the advantages without any of the responsibilities. Other governments cannot deal with Russia unless Russia will refrain from interfering with the business of the other governments and will give them and their nations such rights in Russia as Russians expect in other countries.

It is the same with financial help, whether public or private. There can be no new loans to Russia until Russia has acknowledged responsibility for old loans and given assurance of her willingness to pay them. Even though other governments want to lend money to Russia, private capital will not supply the funds without reasonable assurance and security.

It is the same with such help as may be given through the regular channels of business, which is perhaps what Russia needs most of all. Private enterprise from western Europe and America will not go into Russia, with its brains and capital, for the reconstruction of the country's economic life, unless there is respect for private property and opportunity for legitimate profit, without any hampering "partnership with the soviet government." Neither can private enterprise be expected to seek the Russian field if the property confiscated by the soviet government in the past is not restored or paid for.

In short, if Russia expects to be treated as a civilized country it must act like one. All that can properly be asked is that no terms be imposed on Russia more harsh than would be imposed on another country in distress.

FREEDOM OF THE MOVIE

Will H. Hays in an address to publishers of the United States at New York made the point that the production of motion pictures should have as much freedom as the press. There can be no objection to this, so long as it does not make the principle a cloak for license that is clearly against public policy. It is only fair to say that the movie industry, scarcely twenty years old, has barely begun its existence and could not be expected to work out its problems in so short a time. Newspapers have had several hundred years in which to solve their questions of ethics and policy, and they are not yet agreed as to what constitutes freedom of the press. Radical, revolutionary publishers set up the doctrine of absolute non-restraint. They assert that they are entitled to publish anything they see fit, whether it is disloyal, treasonable, immoral or in violation of the rights of others. Doubtless there are movie producers just as extreme in their interpretation of their liberties.

Now the truth is, that freedom of the press is not and never has been license, and the same may be said of speech. There are limits beyond which freedom of speech and press cannot go. Anarchists and traitors do not like to concede this, but nations, including our own, have willed otherwise, so that we do in fact place restraint on these liberties. The government has frequently exercised its unquestioned powers for the regulation of speech and press, and it will have to continue to do so so long as it exists. Within the confines of what we have set up as government and established as public policy, there is complete freedom of both press and speech. Nor is there any attempt to define this freedom by statute. It is an acknowledged right and a part of our constitution.

The moving picture is different from either speech or press, although there are similarities. It is not directly covered by the constitution, and yet it belongs to the rights and liberties guaranteed by that document. But this does not mean that the producer and exhibitor of moving pictures may invade the domain of license any more than may the publisher or the public speaker. They are and necessarily must be amenable to laws and regulations. They can be accorded the liberties of the press or speech only in like degree. They cannot violate the standards of public decency and morality, they cannot strike at our institutions or our government, any more than can the newspaper. Unquestionably public opinion will in the end prove to be the best regulator of the movies. But in addition to this restraining influence there is also the right and the duty of the law to step in and suppress the motion picture when it is turned to license.

The Suspicious Plesiosaur
There is something wrong about the famous plesiosaur whose last known address was Chollia, in the territory of Chubut. Valiantly a scientific expedition advanced from Buenos Aires to interview him. But the plesiosaurus wouldn't come out. This in itself excites suspicion. He didn't want to be investigated. Can it be that this ancient animal was once a trust or a government servant? Is he left in the care and custody of a survivor of a bygone age, because he never talked and therefore was not fired? His technique couldn't be better. He doesn't come to the door and say, "The public be damned," he doesn't say that what congress thinks is nothing for him to worry about. He doesn't even call scientific investigators hard names. Not he. He knows that all the plesiosaurs who talked are fossils now.—MILWAUKEE JOURNAL. (Ind.)

KIDNEYS TROUBLE VS. BRIGHT'S DISEASE
Long enduring or chronic inflammation of the kidneys is known as Bright's disease. Most persons who have Bright's disease, ascribe their impaired health, at least for the first few years, to almost anything else but functional deficiency of the kidneys. And thanks to the industry of the pill and potion trade, most persons who imagine they have kidney trouble really have nothing of that kind. Trying on symptoms which you find scattered so profusely thru the skillfully written testimonials is indeed a great life if you don't weaken, backache, weak back or pain in the back, for instance, is one of the most popular symptoms of imaginary kidney trouble. But this complaint is conspicuously absent from the history of the patient who has actual kidney disease, actual functional impairment of the kidneys, commonly known as Bright's disease. Of course backache is like headache—a susceptible person with a lively imagination can readily worry himself into one. Thus, the headache which some individuals suffer immediately intestinal evacuation is delayed, is an anxiety or worry headache, not a toxic or poison headache. The backache which the unenlightened woman suffers when she holds one of those quick doctor books that tell all that isn't so about alleged "female complaint," is a worry headache rather than a symptom of any pelvic derangement. I defy the coolest and least credulous layman to read some of the morbid quack pamphlets without experiencing a certain degree of vertigo, ringing in the ears, palpitation, specks before the eyes, inward convulsions, nausea and general run down condition. That's what good quack literature is for.

"Please send me a list of foods and how to prepare them for a patient with Bright's disease," asks one correspondent. And "please send me a list of foods a man whose urine shows albumin may and may not eat," says another, who adds in a postscript "Have just been rejected for life insurance. The company found Bright's disease." These samples from an unending series sufficiently indicate the vague impression people in general have regarding kidney disease. A generation ago, I believe, it was permissible for the old doctors, some of them still famous as great physicians, to hand out to patients of Bright's disease "diet lists" which told the patients precisely what they might and might not eat. That was good enough practice for the day and generation, but it has long since been discarded. We no longer imagine that one with actual kidney disease may not eat meat or egg or any other albuminous food, for medical science is not stationary and we know more about Bright's disease and about dietetics and nutrition and metabolism than the great doctors knew when these "may and may not" lists came into vogue. It is as quaint and absurd for a person to follow such a scheme of dieting today as it would be for a yoke of oxen to draw a two wheeled cart down Main street at rush hour. There is no reason why one with Bright's disease should not take meat and eggs in his diet, tho there is sound reason for avoiding the excessive consumption of these and other nitrogenous or protein substances that is customary among the people at large. Neither I nor any other healer or health adviser can prepare such a list, with the best interest of the patient at heart, unless we know precisely what the individual patient requires, and that we can learn only by careful study of the patient himself.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Ivy Poisoning
I understand you recommend some kind of home treatment which will immunize a susceptible person to ivy poisoning. Will you please reprint the remedy or treatment.—(O. L. L.)

Answer—It is described in greater detail than I have space for here, in a letter to the treatment of ivy poisoning and immunization which I have prepared and will send by mail when the request is accompanied with an addressed stamped envelope for reply. No loose stamps and no other subject should be included in the letter of request.

Born With a Veil
My daughter was born with a veil over her face. I would like to know whether it has any significance.—(J. J. J.)

Answer—No. It is a very common occurrence, and would be almost the rule if childbirth were not assisted by the physician.

Mayonnaise Rich in Oil
Is mayonnaise dressing made rich with oil a laxative food?—(S. A. N.)

Answer—The oil is a laxative food.

The Almanac Signs
Many grandmothers firmly believe that the only time to wean a baby is by the almanac signs. What do you advise about that?—(Mrs. L. A. R.)

Answer—If the signs happen to be right when you are weaning it is all right to keep on weaning. I would not advise hastening or postponing the weaning just because you happen to find the signs are right. But the truth is that the grandmothers ring on this superstition for the purpose of throwing a scare into the amateur mother and keeping her under their influence, so to speak. Naturally a grandmother doesn't like to be seen and not heard. If history were entirely reliable we might find that when grandma weaned her babies she weaned 'em and never worried her head about any signs.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Tuesday, May 4, 1897

C. P. Buck of Hortonville called on Appleton friends.

W. J. Ustick of Chicago was visiting the paper trade.

The toilet paper mill of John Heberg Co., at Green Bay started up with 30 hands under the direction of Peter Reuter of Kaukauna.

An advance agent of Barnum & Bailey's circus was in Appleton arranging for the appearance of his company's big show later in the season.

The bicycle club of Kaukauna elected George H. Reese president; W. S. Mulford, vice president; Bert Fargo, secretary and treasurer; J. N. E. Trout, captain; Frank St. Andrews, first lieutenant; A. E. Parton, second lieutenant; G. O. Babcock, color bearer.

The Seymour Woodmen's Co. was about to start up, having leased the Seymour Manufacturing Co.'s plant.

Miss Emma Bailey, for many years employed in the public schools of Appleton, resigned her position as teacher in the First ward school.

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

THE NAVY'S STRENGTH; AND PRESIDENT HARDING

Entire credit is given by the newspapers of the country to President Harding for the compelling Congress to fix the strength of the navy at $6,000,000 instead of $7,000,000.

"Thoughtful men, who were concerned about the risk of reducing the navy while world conditions are still unsettled," says the New York TIMES "will breathe more freely. And by the result President Harding gains in influence. In addition 'party lines' were obliterated," points out the Indianapolis NEWS, "and the leadership of the President was followed." A striking feature of the vote in the House, the Washington STAR indicates, "was the support accorded the treaty navy by men from the middle states and the western country" which is a "plain refutation of the suggestion that the increase was brought about by a combination of coast interest concerned in their navy yards."

The House did not go far enough in the viewpoint of the Boston TRANSCRIPT, which appeals to the Senate to make the figure not less than 90,000 men. "A smaller personnel is only a makeshift," it declares. "Now is the time to begin to tell the people the whole truth about the navy instead of tickling their palates with political 'hush darlings' of the sort that candidates for office delight to distribute in a campaign year."

It was a "national policy of intelligence" that the President advocated in insisting on the larger navy, the Chicago POST believes, and it is convinced that "thoughtful men and women are willing to delay all unnecessary improvements of rivers and harbors while taxes remain high. There are many justifiable public works which can wait until the back-wash from the war has ceased muddling the waters of opportunity. In such matters Congressmen are loath to wait. They want the credit of making visible improvements but many of them seem willing to leave the unsanctified ships of the navy anchored on some river side by side with the shipping board's merchant marine gathering barnacles for the lack of men to keep them in condition."

Many persons demand economy at all costs," the Adams, Mich. TELEGRAPH points out, "and are willing to make any sacrifice for it, but there is no reason to believe that the masses of the American people have changed their minds as to sea power. The great majority still want the navy to be strong and efficient." In addition, it must be remembered, the Savannah PRESS points out "we don't know that there will be any powerful ally to help us in the next war. There may not be any friendly ally to sweep the coast, but we are enabled to get our war establishment in working order. Until all of the nations are combined in a great peace league everybody realizes that we cannot plunge into disarmament immediately or by wholesale."

Because none of the other nations that were parties to the Washington conference have planned disarmament on a wholesale scale the Cincinnati TIMES STAFF declares that "it would be unwise" to reduce the man power of the navy at this time. "The action of the House," it says, "is in the direction of common sense and there is every reason to believe that the Senate will see it in the same light."

There is a distinct note of disapproval, however, in the comment of the Tulsa, Okla. TRIBUNE, which contends that "if the $6,000,000 personnel is necessary under the Washington treaty then that agreement didn't bring the American people much relief. When we find that the policy of the Washington conference, we must bear a burden of naval expenditure twice as great as we have ever carried in time of peace, there will be many people who will conclude that the administration bullhoo on the merits of the conference has been considerably overdone." Similar sentiments are entertained by the Johnstown, Pa. DEMOCRAT, which believes that "instead of listening to the voice of the people who are clamoring for relief from an oppressive and destructive burden of taxation due in major part to an army and navy, President Harding turns a receptive ear to the war lords who plot year in and year out for the next war and who, if permitted, would transform this peaceful land into an armed camp."

And so far as popular approval of the action of the House in accepting President Harding's viewpoint is concerned, the Duluth HERALD does not believe it could be secured remarking "if the issue could be put to a vote in this or any other Congressional district, those who favor the smaller fleet would be much more numerous than those who favor the larger force. The average voter may be wrong but anyone who wants to test it will find that is where he stands."

An appeal to the navy to quit dealing with statistics and "put its case in plain, non technical language" is made by the Lansing, Mich. JOURNAL. "We have American wishes implicitly keep to the prescribed 'treaty ratio,'" it says, "neither exceeding it or falling to come up to it. There ought to be no question what that would mean 'in men.'"

In the opinion of the Peoria, Ill. TRANSCRIPT, "a navy which loses caste is practically worthless. The 5-5-3 ratio should be maintained, not because it is more expensive than a reversion to provincialism, but because the world's commercial and commercial reasons to fall below the Japanese standard of national defense." And the Sioux City, Ia. JOURNAL recalls that "to cut the navy strength below the figures agreed upon by the Washington conference would be in violation of that principle. The other governments are not reducing theirs."

On this very subject, the Omaha WORLD HERALD presses to be puzzled, declaring that "the situation is the most perplexing because the figures proposed, and which the ad-

More Radical Change

EDITOR POST-CRESCENT—I was much interested in the article in The Appleton Post-Crescent Wednesday evening, telling of the street renaming and renumbering. I believe that this is the greatest city improvement. It will be a great advantage to each person in Appleton as well as to the visitors of this city. I was much pleased with the idea starting all numbers from the corner of Appleton and Oneida streets. The city can grow in any direction and the numbering will never be hampered. The idea of having the streets prefixed East-West, North and South will also aid persons looking for streets for this will tell them in what part of the city this certain street can be found.

The plan submitted will be worked out in every detail and will suit the city's need in every way, though a more radical plan may be even better. In the manner proposed every person and business house will be compelled to change their address and some the name of the street on their stationary and their store. As long as you propose to go this far then you may as well finish the job. I propose to have no names for the streets but to have them in numerical order. That is for instance with the streets running East and West Front-st. would be First avenue and so on. Then College-ave. would be Tenth-ave. The same could be done with the streets running North and South. The streets such as Bates, Maple Grove, and State Road, that are slanting may retain their usual names.

In the plan proposed herewith a person that knew what street he was on could find any street without the least trouble. Larger cities have adopted this plan and it has worked out successfully. This would eliminate any further changes of any kind in the future.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haslin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medicinal, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. At what Army field has the most flying been done? R. A. A. The Air Service says that Post Field, Fort Sill, Oklahoma, holds the record, with total time flown by pilots at the field 9,836 hours at 85 miles an hour, or 836,000 miles. Making a computation on two men to a plane, the man-mile total would be 1,672,120 miles or approximately 67 times the distance around the earth.

Q. For what was Newark, N. J. named? D. E. A. Newark, N. J., was named in honor of its first minister, who preached in Newark, England, before coming to this country. Its old name was New York, not New Ark; the former being a simple English translation of the Latin words Novum Onus, by which the founder of Newark Castle chose to distinguish his then new enterprise.

Q. Who is the ruler of Egypt? A. H. F. A. The reign of King Paul has recently commenced in Egypt.

Q. How long have there been men in America? C. G. T. A. Alexander F. Chamberlain in a monograph on American Indians says that by the time of the Glacial Age, man had probably spread over a considerable portion of North and South America at least 25,000 years and not more than 200,000.

Q. How was postage paid on letters before postage stamps were used? O. C. D. A. The Post Office Department says that United States postage stamps were first issued under the act of Congress, March 3, 1847. Prior to these issues the money for a letter was collected from the addressee, so the person who received the mail was the one that always paid for it.

Q. What is the National Municipal League? C. M. K. A. The National Municipal League is an interstate organization made up of individual members and affiliated with state and local associations for the purpose of promoting better government in cities. It was founded in 1894 in New York and is non-partisan in character.

Q. How do we distinguish between ticks, hails, and spikes? R. B. H. A. In the United States anything known as a hail while anything above the sixty-penny size is a spike; nails range in size from two-penny to sixty-penny.

Q. What oil wells are the greatest gushers? W. S. A. The United States Geological Survey says that there is no tabulation of the largest oil gushers. There is one well in Bibi Elhat in Russia which gave nearly three and three-fourths millions barrels in 30 days. The Dos Dorcas well, south of Tampico, Mexico, is estimated to have given five millions in two months. Other prodigious gushers are in Roumania, Russia, and Mexico.

Q. What is a fly wheel? P. N. I. A. A fly wheel is a heavy wheel for opposing and moderating by its inertia any fluctuation of speed in the machinery with which it revolves. Such a wheel is used on an engine crankshaft to counteract variable pressure during the stroke and carry the engine over the dead centers.

Q. I saw a reference to John Heywood who said "A hyde in the hand is worth ten in the wood." Who was this John Heywood? F. E. B. A. John Heywood was an English author, probably born in 1497 and probably died in 1580. He was a favorite at the Courts of Henry VII. and Edward VI. He excelled in writing epigrams.

Q. Under what head would you class edible snails? H. E. A. Snails are classed as shell fish.

Q. What are "peoples' universities"? T. E. A. Public high schools are sometimes referred to as "Peoples' Universities."

HARRY LAUDER WOULD FORGET AND FORGIVE
London.—Sir Harry Lauder made one of his characteristic speeches recently as the guest at luncheon of the London Rotary Club at the Hotel Cecil, the Westminster Gazette reports.

"I would bring happiness to the world by affection, and not hell by affliction," he said.

"Forget the war. We will have to do another thing—we will have to forgive. The market of the world is Europe, and Europe is in chaos, and until the chaos is cleared up we will find ourselves moving along as we are doing today. We must get the market put in order. If we want to do anything like a good thriving business, let us forgive."

Somebody might say, "We know the Germans." Yes, we know the Germans under the rule of Kaiserism, but the British Empire had never had any reason to quarrel with any nation yet that was a Republic.

Sir Harry told of his meeting with President Harding and reported his suggestion that if the President and Mr. Lloyd George could have a game of golf the peace of the world would be secured. President Harding was a "great big simple kindly Christian man," just what we were wanting to day.

Three Girls
Rank High
In Club VoteCrowning of May Queen Too Elaborate for Feature of Dance

The May Queen of the recreation department of Appleton Womans club will be crowned at a festival to be given in Appleton high school on May 18 in her honor rather than at the May dance to be given by the sports council of the club at Armory G Friday evening. The festival will be a finale to the work in the folk and aesthetic dancing and gymnasium classes. All the girls in the clubs and classes of the recreation department will take part.

In the nominations for May queen, the three girls who received the greatest number of votes were the Misses Regina King, Edna Storm and Esther Ashman. Balloting on these three names will continue until May 12, when the girl who receives the most will be declared the Queen of the May. Only those girls who are members of a club or class of the recreation department are qualified to vote for the queen.

Because the crowning of the queen will take considerable time it was decided not to have this program a feature of the dance. Many people who attend the dances are not particularly interested in the work of the organizations which make the community dances possible. At the May festival, the queen will be the guest of the girls who have elected her because of her leadership and their appreciation of her work with them.

SURE HELP TO SICK WOMEN

Mrs. Baker, so much Benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Anxious to Help Others

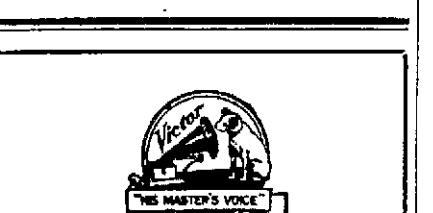

Lebanon, Indiana.—"I was completely run down from women's troubles and stomach trouble and for a long time was hardly able to do my work. I had some friends who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they told me about it. I know what it has done for me and I recommend great help to all sick women. It is a wonderful medicine, and I give you permission to use my testimonial and my photograph." — Mrs. EMMA BAKER, 310 S. East St., Lebanon, Indiana.

These letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound ought to convince women of the great worth of this medicine in the treatment of ailments to which they are often subject.

Mrs. Baker calls it "a wonderful medicine." If you are suffering from troubles women often have, or feel all run down, without any ambition or energy for your regular work, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a natural restorative and should help you.

KAUKAUNA CHURCH WILL OBSERVE ITS 35TH ANNIVERSARY

Arrangements are Being Made for Elaborate Celebration of Event

Kaukauna—Plans are well under way for the celebration of the thirty-fifth anniversary of the local Reformed church to be held Monday, May 7 to Sunday evening, May 14. Committees have been working on programs for several weeks and final preparations now are being made. L. Various organizations within the church will take charge and meetings in the church will be held every night. Prominent speakers have been secured by the Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip and by the consistory of the church. The Christian Endeavor societies will have charge of one evening. The program will include singing, music, numbers and talks in the interests of the young people's organization. The Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip will hold a banquet for men on another evening and program and address will follow.

The feature event of the week will be the program in honor of William Klumb, Sr., who will observe his thirty-fifth year as a member of the Reformed church consistory. The fifth anniversary of the church also will be observed. A musical program to be given by the orchestra, the choir, the mens' quartet and by individuals also will be one of the main events of the celebration.

The Ladies Aid society, considered the most active organization in the congregation, will have charge of the program for one night. Saturday and Sunday will be devoted to the Schöyngian and the Women's Mission which will hold its annual meeting here. The anniversary celebration will close on Sunday evening with an elaborate program in which 25 persons will take part.

GUN CLUB PREPARES FOR ITS FIRST SHOOT

Kaukauna—Kaukauna Gun club member of the American Trapshooters association, will hold its opening registered shoot Sunday afternoon, May 14, on the local gun club grounds. Only members who have cards will be eligible. Registered shoots will be held on the following dates during the summer: May 21, 28, June 15, July 23, Aug. 6, 20, Sept. 24, Oct. 8. The American Trapshooters association will present a trophy to the high gun average of the entire season and also a trophy to the high gun for each shoot. All contests will begin at 2 o'clock.

The plan of establishing a tourist camping ground in the vicinity of the club grounds is progressing. The place will be beautified as much as possible and benches and other conveniences for the use of travelers will be installed. The grounds are situated near the sulphur springs and not far from clean fresh water. Nothing remains but for the council to allow an appropriation to be used in preparing the road to the grounds and placing signs for the convenience of the tourists.

Social Items

Kaukauna—A meeting of the Kaukauna and New London American legion, will be held Tuesday evening in Eagle hall. Regular business will be disposed of.

A meeting of the Kaukauna Eagles will be held Thursday evening in Eagle hall. Officers for the coming year will be elected and routine business will be transacted.

The monthly meeting of the Senior Christian Endeavor society of the Congregational church was held Monday evening in the church basement. Committees were appointed to arrange for a big social meeting of the society to be held in June after which meetings will be discontinued for the summer.

The regular business meeting of the Young Peoples society of Trinity Lutheran church will be held Wednesday evening in the church parlors. Regular business will be disposed of and a social meeting will follow.

SCHOOL PLAY IS DELIGHTFUL EVENT

Mother Goose Production is Staged for Benefit of School Music Fund

Special to The Post-Crescent.
New London—The opera production by children of the public schools in Grand opera house, last Friday evening under direction of Miss Elsa Schidlo, music instructor, was a most pleasing production. One hundred children composed the cast, representing the familiar Mother Goose characters.

Twenty fairies in attire of delicate tints danced onto the stage singing the opening chorus, "Hark, Hark, The Dogs Do Bark," and proclaiming the arrival of Mother Goose. Attended by eight goose girls, Mother Goose impersonated by Miss Amy Polley, entered and welcomed various characters as they appeared in costume. Not a one was missing from dainty little Bo-Peep to stately old King Cole. Peter Pumpkin Eater brought his wife in a pumpkin shell three feet in diameter and on wheels. The big black spider appeared at the proper moment to frighten Miss Muffet away.

One of the most interesting features was the home of the "Children Who Lived in a Shoe." The shoe was constructed by the manual training department and was 16 feet long and 6 feet high. It had two windows and a door through which the "old woman who lived in a shoe" emerged followed by her 20 ragged urchins. The character of the old woman was perfectly portrayed in costume and action by Miss Helen LaMarche. Twelve little kindergarten girls attired in colors of every hue made up the flower garden for Mary, Mary Quite Contrary.

The overtures rendered by Eileen Trayser at the piano and Mr. Walter and Raymond Abot on the violin were pleasing as were also the chorus selections.

More than $100 will be netted when expenses are paid, to be devoted to the purchase of needed musical supplies in the public schools.

4 WIN HONORS IN SPEAKING CONTEST

Special to The Post-Crescent.
Little Chute—Peter Van Susteren of Racine was the weekend guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Susteren.

Survey Committee Recommends Junior High Schools Here

Remodeling and Enlargement of Present High School and Adoption of Union System
Urged by Survey Experts, perits.

suggested so additions may be made to the schools conveniently when needed.

Figuring the average cost of 2
junior high school buildings, it is estimated that the cost of each structure here would be approximately $165,000 and the equipment about $25,000, or $190,000 the building. This does not include the price of the land.

The committee recommends against placing a junior high school in the present Fourth ward building because it is unsuited, and because its enrollment would be about 57 pupils—not enough to warrant the teaching and facilities the pupils ought to have. It is suggested that transportation to and from school might be provided those who have more than one and a half miles to walk.

One centrally located junior school was warned against, because it would become unwieldy with its possible enrollment of 1,000 in a few years. With the building trend to the north and west, the proper locations for the two schools with respect to school population would be at Franklin and Meade-sts., and on property bound by College, State and Mason-sts., it was said. The latter site is available, but no property could be acquired at a reasonable price at the east end. The recommendation, therefore, was for a building in the Sixth ward on Second-
ave. between Drew and Union-sts.
Each plot should contain a minimum of three acres.

WHAT H. S. NEEDS

Appleton's present high school was well built, the report stated, but had some features lacking from the standpoint of educational efficiency. The standard capacity of the original building was 644 people but alterations made it possible to increase this number to 812. The present enrollment is 904. These are some of the things the committee said the building lacks for the present 4-year high school plan: Adequate auditorium and gymnasium facilities, adequate classrooms of proper dimensions, arrangement and proper lighting, adequate study rooms, library, art and music rooms, adequate and properly arranged shops and domestic science
rooms, adequate biological laboratory and adequate ventilation, toilet facilities and dressing rooms for gymnasium.

Should the junior high school plan
be adopted the present building used as a senior high school then would have 557 pupils in its first enrollment and could be used as it is despite the inadequacies mentioned. It would be only a few years, however, when this building used as a senior high school would have to be expanded. It is shown. There is an increasing demand for higher education, because the average growth of population is 1.7 per cent a year, while classes entering the high school have grown 10 per cent. Conservatively estimating an increase of 5 per cent a year,
the school must accommodate 850 pupils ten years from now.

RECOMMEND ADDITION

The survey suggests alterations in the high school immediately so the disadvantages of the building will be removed. It is recommended that the auditorium and gymnasium which form a large north wing be torn down.
A new unit then would be constructed of a length somewhat greater than the front of the present building and running parallel with North-st. Light courts would be provided at the center so as not to darken the classrooms.

An auditorium seating 750 in the first floor and possibly a balcony seating 200 would be placed in the new unit, together with a gymnasium 50
by 70 feet and a place with ample space for shower baths and locker rooms. Study rooms and greater library facilities then could be provided and all of the manual training and domestic science rooms could be in the basement. The cost of these changes, together with equipment, is estimated at about $115,000, including tearing down of the old unit.

An interesting yet puzzling question was settled when Mr. Anderson presented a new decision of the attorney general's department defining the bonding right under a district system.
It was shown conclusively that the city of Appleton is a free high school district and as such is a separate political entity. Electors of the district have the power to levy taxes and to issue bonds. Bond issues may be authorized at a special meeting of the electors properly called. Approval of the city council is not necessary to the validity of the bonds so issued.

OUTSIDE BONDING LIMIT
Funds so issued would not affect Appleton's bonding status with respect to the amount of bonded indebtedness permitted by state law,
which is 5 per cent of the assessed valuation. The school bond issue voted by the high school district would not apply toward this 5 per cent limit.

Lighting and ventilating systems
used in the grade schools were criticized, and much was said in the reports against the arrangement of classrooms, decoration of rooms, adequacy of toilet facilities, gymnasiums and other features that were not in line with modern school methods.

With an enrollment of approximately 2,500 and a capacity in all buildings of 3,025 there is no immediate concern over overcrowding, it was said. Three schools were approaching capacity enrollments, however,
and unless the unified system were adopted so as to distribute pupils more equitably these districts would be obliged to build. It is believed the grade schools are adequate in size

for ten years to come if the distribution is changed.

Coordination and development of greater interest in home economics were urged, and ample rooms suggested for education in foods, clothing, millinery, laundry, home nursing and child welfare.

SUPPORT JUNIOR SCHOOL

Support was given the junior high school idea through statistics and comments of noted educators showing that modern educational theory favors this form of school organization. Modern educational practice is rapidly moving toward adoption of the intermediate school plan; and in development of a building program for Appleton, the junior high school offers an economical means of solving the school housing problem as well as increasing the educational efficiency of the school system. It was shown Wisconsin has 13 cities in which junior high schools were operating successfully and others were building or planning to build, including Janesville, Marinette, Chippewa Falls and others.

Comparison of costs of school maintenance in 21 Wisconsin cities showed that Appleton ranked third highest in its per capita cost based on average daily attendance. It was shown also that Appleton has the smallest number of pupils to the average of 20.69 pupils to one teacher.
Teacher of any of the 21 cities the Salaries paid elementary teachers, averaging $135.60 a month were fifth in the group, with the medium rate at $127. Appleton was third highest in salaries paid high school teachers, averaging $185 a month as compared with the medium figure in Oshkosh and LaCrosse of $161. Elementary teachers were retained longer than the average city but high school teachers remained an average of one year and a half. Figures also were given showing comparative tax rates

HIGHWAYS LINED WITH AUTOMOBILES

Nearly everybody in Appleton who owns an automobile was out on the roads Sunday, the first really warm day of spring. Every main highway in the county was literally covered with motor vehicles of all kinds. On some of the roads the long streams of automobiles, going and coming, resembled two endless funeral processions.

A party that motored from Appleton to Neenah counted 100 automobiles that passed it within 10 minutes, or at the rate of 10 automobiles per minute. If the value of the cars is estimated at $1,000 each, $100,000 in automobiles passed in review within ten minutes. This is a fair index to the wealth invested in automobiles in Appleton and vicinity.

and valuations, with their relation to school expense.

Appleton was urged to keep up the high standard of its teaching force by keeping salaries where they are for the next year. It was said that the expense of operating schools could be reduced greatly by adopting the unified system, and that salary cuts
then would be unnecessary for economy. Standardization of equipment,
joint purchasing at lower rates,
greater coordination between grade
and high schools and greater efficiency were named as some of the advantages to be enjoyed if the district plan were abandoned. Mr. Anderson suggested that the common council pass a resolution at once to submit the issue to the people for a referendum.

Taking shops out of all schools and combining them under one head at the vocational school was deemed utterly impossible, because the growth of the school itself will take up the present unused capacity in a few years. To send all pupils to the vocational school for manual arts training would mean erection of another building as large as the present one, it was said.
It is possible that the report will be printed in booklet form and distributed to everybody in Appleton at a later date.

For pimples and boils take Yeast Foam Tablets

The lack of vitamin B in present day foods results in malnutrition which is indicated by a falling off in health, lowered vitality and skin disorders such as pimples, boils, sallow color, etc.

The easiest way to replace this essential vitamin, and thus correct these sinister conditions, is to take Yeast Foam Tablets along with your regular food.

HOTEL MAN HASN'T TAKEN TRUTONA FOR MONTHS BUT SAYS HE FEELS "JUST FINE"

Kept On Improving After Discontinuing Treatment—Health Perfect Today—Gained Total of 25 Pounds Weight.

"I haven't taken Trutona for several months, but I've never felt better or more fit for my work than I do today and I can certainly recommend this great medicine as ONE preparation that gives PERMANENT relief."

Martin Smith, well-known attache of the Interurban Hotel, Janesville, remarked recently.

"I was almost down and out, could scarcely work at all and was suffering severely from stomach troubles when I began using Trutona last fall," he said. "At that time, in three weeks, I gained 18 pounds, my stomach troubles—pains, shortness of breath and constipation—vanished and I felt like a new man. I still feel the same today, though I haven't used Trutona for some time, which shows that the benefits this medicine gives are PER-MANENT."

A year from now, hundreds of Appleton residents will be praising Trutona for the remarkable permanency of its benefits, just as countless Janesville people are doing today. Trutona goes down to the very root of stomach, liver, kidney, bowel and blood troubles and REMOVES the CAUSE of them, which eliminates the likelihood of a return of the patient's former ills. As a reconstructive agency for overcoming after-effects of influenza, pneumonia, coughs, colds and the like, Trutona is unequalled. Scores of Appleton people are now buying Trutona at SCHLANTZ BROS. Drug Store, where this famous tonic is highly recommended.

Standing Squarely and Acting Fairly

Honesty is the best policy—the only policy on which any truly successful business can be founded and profitably maintained.

Truth in manufacturing, truth in selling, and truth in advertising are necessary in every business and in all transactions between organizations, companies, and individuals.

Each one of us must do our share today and tomorrow. The idea of putting something over is a thing of the past. You can fool or deceive some of the people some of the time, but not all the people all the time—no one except yourself.
In the end you will get out just what you put in—
no more and no less.

These are the principles for which the Better Business Bureau and the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World stand today. They are working constantly hand in hand to direct and influence the manufacturer, distributor, and buyer to stand squarely and act fairly under any and all circumstances.

By precept and by example, these two organizations are constantly working to teach and prove to distributors who advertise big reductions through misrepresentation and deception that they profit nothing, but lose in the long run. They are driving home to the buyer, who is unduly influenced by such methods of merchandizing and who allows bargain hunting and greed to get the better of experience and good judgment, and he hurts himself in two ways—in not getting his money's worth and in helping to encourage camouflage and deception.

These organizations recommend and heartily endorse the producing and distributing of merchandise on a close margin—a fair profit through quick turnover and a large volume of sales—value received in each and every instance.
They earnestly ask your hearty co-operation.

its Vigilance Committee stands as the guarantor of the advertising of Appleton Merchants. We are vigorously pursuing our work to the end that Appleton shoppers will not only thoroughly believe in Appleton merchants themselves, but also be proud that Appleton stands as a city of Truthful Advertising.

LIVING APART IS KEY TO HAPPINESS

Young Chicago Couple Live in Separate Apartments — Working Out Well

BY ROY GIBBONS

Chicago—Mrs. Constance Underhill Auer, Suite 16, And right underneath it alongside a sign reading "all deliveries in the rear" stares another brass plate inscribed with this—

Mr. H. C. Auer, Suite 2. RELATED? MARRIED! Are the owners related? My, yes! Married, in fact and just perfectly in love with each other.

She is a musician and 24. He's a poet and 27. They're trying out a new game called "Own your Own Latchkey."

When Auer wants to kiss his wife good night, after first having made an appointment earlier in the evening, he must trot up four flights of stairs.

And she, to do likewise, must descend as munny.

Why? "Because intimacy breeds contempt," says the bride of two weeks. "Modern intimacy is too familiar an institution. It leads to mutual boredom and disillusionment."

Downstairs the reporter interviewed friend husband.

He was busy at work on a new volume entitled "Future Ideals." "Why, there's nothing much too it, old fellow," said he.

"We simply met. I liked her. She liked me. The second day we decided we were in love."

"Then a week later we got a preacher and moved here. I on the first floor. She on the fourth. It was safer up there—free from burglar intrusions," he added after a brief halt.

"Why, this marriage game of today is full of frailties. That because individuality of both husband and wife submerges under forced pressure to adjust and tolerate and give in, and all that sort of thing."

"This is the day of separate accommodations for both. Happiness never ceases under an arrangement like we have."

"The Auers see each other every evening. That's a standing engagement."

"YOU TREAS" They have "Dutch treat" at the movies and corner ice cream shop. She pays her way and he his. Likewise they share the living expenses. "And don't say we've patterned our selves after Fannie Hurst," say both. "For we didn't. Our plan in living separately was inspired simply because we saw so much married unhappiness about us."

PICK M. E. CHURCH FOR S. S. MEETING

An old fashioned picnic supper will precede the community religious conference of Sunday school workers Monday night of next week, according to a decision of the supper committee at a meeting in the First Congregational church Sunday afternoon.

The place selected for the big gathering was the dining room of the First Methodist church, and the serving hour was set at 6.15 sharp. Each church of more than half a dozen participating will be asked to arrange for the feeding of its own group. Hot coffee will be served by the committee.

Announcement of the program will be made this week. It will include at least one speaker of prominence.

Miss Ardise Calkins spent Sunday with friends at Shawano.

Miss Edna Blinke has resumed her duties at the office of the Aid Association for Lutherans after spending a week at her home at Winneconne.

George S. Koffend of Minneapolis was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Koffend, Sr., Saturday and Sunday.

Radishes

WASH the radishes in a food value in a muscle building way they do have a distinct place among the mineral and ballast foods. The constituents of the radish are much the same as the turnip.

If you would make radish posies to serve with the salad at a "party," here is the way to do it.

Choose round red radishes, not too big. Wash carefully and cut off the tops to within three-eighths inch from the radish. Make six cuts from the root end of the radish almost to the stem end. Cut just through the red skin and be sure that the incisions meet at the root end. Peel each petal-shaped section back as far as the cut extends.

Put in very cold water for two hours. The petals will spring out and curl back. Serve on the salad plate with an olive.

An early variety of white radish is very sweet and crisp, and makes delicious sandwiches.

RADISH SANDWICHES Wash the long white radish carefully and scrape lightly with a sharp knife. Let stand a very cold water for two hours. Drain and slice very thin. Sprinkle lightly with salt and put between thin slices of white bread and butter. These sandwiches are excellent to serve with a fish salad or a lettuce salad with a Russian or cheese dressing.

CREAMED RADISHES Three cups round red radishes, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 3/4 cup milk, 4 tablespoons water radishes were cooked in 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 4 tablespoons grated cheese, 4 tablespoons buttered crumbs.

Wash radishes carefully and cut off every bit of stem. Cover with boiling water, add 1 teaspoon of salt and boil half an hour. Drain from water, saving 4 tablespoonsful for the sauce. Put radishes in a buttered dish. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add water, salt and pepper and cook two minutes. Pour sauce over radishes. Sprinkle with crumbs and grated cheese and bake ten minutes in a hot oven. The cheese should be melted and the crumbs crisped. Serve in the dish in which the radishes are baked.

The long white radishes may be used. These should be scraped and cut in slices to cook.

Adventures Of The Twins

"Teakettle Town"

"Teakettle Town" called out Scoot-along, who appeared to be engineer, brakeman and conductor of the funny little train, all rolled into one. With that they came to a standstill and Buskins said they had better get out.

A fat, puffy, little fairy saw them and came running up. "Hello, there, Nancy and Nick, I know you."

The Twins looked puzzled. "I beg your pardon, but who are you?" asked Nancy, timidly.

"I was rattling the lid on your Grandma's teakettle one day when you and your brother came in. I was playing a merry tune and the cat was purring contentedly. I remember you said that you wondered if there were any words to my tune. I couldn't answer you then, but I can now as this is Fairyland and you can understand me. There were words and they went like this:

"Poppity, uppity, impity bing. The water's boiling and I can sing. Get out the sugar and spoons and tea, Impity, uppity, poppity gee."

"It's a good thing you didn't come in earlier and stand and stare at me," went on the puffy teakettle fairy.

"Why?" asked Nick.

"Because the watched pot never boils," answered the other. "Watched kettles don't exther. Steam fairies are queer that way. If I do say it myself, but I must be off. I have to teach a million steam fairies my song today so they can wobble teakettle lids and make cats and folks happy." And away he went humming, "Poppity, uppity, impity bing" in a sing-song voice.

Scootalong blew his whistle just then. "All aboard for Dew Town," he called. "It's the next station along the line." So the three of them, Nancy, Nick and Buskins took their seats again in the funny little train, the like of which they had never seen.

OUR FIRST YEAR

Chapter 23 — I Need More Money

By a Bride

START THIS SERIES HERE

Can individual freedom be maintained by married people? The bride has indulged in several extravagant purchases, not realizing that she was forging chains.

Filled with a fine resolve never to let it happen again, I went at my belated housework, Jack helping.

First we made the bed, then arranged the furniture and dusted the living room which is also the dining room.

And Jack, coming upon my new salad bowl, whistled and said it was fine, and I explained that it had cost $8 and he said he guessed that wouldn't break us, and he was glad I had it, and we admired it together, and I explained that it would serve also for fruit, that it was really a composite.

And perhaps I chattered with the hope that if he became greatly interested in the beauties of the salad bowl, things would be less embarrassing for me when we came to the new cups in the kitchen.

At last we reached them, the cups he had asked me not to buy that month on account of their high price, and the unpaid bill for furniture.

As Jack picked up the first cup from the draining basket I exclaimed: "Now, Jack, Madison, be careful! Don't break that cup! It cost three dollars—with its saucer!" Thus indirectly, I broke the dreadful news!

"Gee! What a price! Are there any more?"

"Only six, dearest!" I chattered excitedly.

Fabric Maker Tells How to Make Clothes Last

Something That Any Woman Can Do

By GRACE BARTON

Recently I interviewed a manufacturer of silks and satins and to my surprise he told me that he washes his fine materials before he weaves them. Very much as we women wash Billy's rompers and Betty's shirtwaists and indeed our flat irons, underwear and stockings. But what kind of soap do you think the experts use? Not the ordinary white and yellow laundry soap containing "filler," but soap rich with crude olive oil. He told me that the "filler" in ordinary laundry soap cuts and rots the clothes, while olive oil softens the fibers of cotton, silk, linen and wool as no other cleansing agent known.

After that talk I felt it was a pity that housewives did not have such a soap for their family wash. Recently I discovered that such a soap does exist. It is called pure GREEN ARROW, and is made by The Palmolive Co. This large, groundsther gets its castle color from the real olive oil and not from coloring matter. I have tried it and recommend it without reserve to every woman. This bar is all soap—without "filler"—hence goes nearly twice as far as the ordinary, because it is all cleaning power. That saves many bars per month as well as clothes. And any woman who prizes her hands will surely swear by it after the very first time she does the family washing. For GREEN ARROW doesn't rot or roughen the hands the slightest.

It's only through buying olive oil and converting this mild, delightful cleanser in enormous quantities that The Palmolive Co. got the cost low enough to put it in a laundry soap.

Careful women are adopting this new gift to the family washbasin as fast as they learn about it. Thank goodness—the old neglected family wash is coming in for its own at last.

APPLETON TO WORK HARD FOR OSHKOSH CONTEST

Brandt Gathers Strong Outfit For Flag Race In Valley Ball League

Team Will Have Offensive and Defensive Strength and Sure to Be in Running for Championship.

Members of the Appleton baseball club in the Fox River Valley league will be ready for a hard battle when they stack up against the Oshkosh leaguers next Sunday in players with City. All the Appleton players with the exception of Schultz and Klawitter are in this city and Manager Mike Murphy is sending them through stiff sessions of practice every afternoon this week at Brandt park. Schultz and Klawitter have promised to work out in Milwaukee every day and report here in good condition Saturday. They will practice with the other members of the club Saturday afternoon at Brandt park.

Schultz already is in good shape. The big hurler has been throwing for the last three weeks and is ready now to go nine innings at top speed. He lobbed the ball over the pan to the New London batters Sunday, but will get in and hurl against Oshkosh next week.

SCHOTT IS READY
Schott is another Appleton player who is ready for the opening game. The little back stop showed the fans Sunday he is in good conditions and played a great game behind the bat. Schott is due for a big season this year. He looks better than ever before, his arm to second appears to be stronger and he has a mean eye with the willow.

Klawitter should be a tower of strength at first base for Appleton this season. The big fellow has lost of "pop" in a severe fielder and can sock the old apple. With an even break, he will be one of the leading sluggers of the Kluwin circuit in the 1922 pennant race.

Gaffke looks mighty good at second base. The former Palmolive star fields cleanly and takes a nice cut at the ball. He is good at waiting a pitcher out and the opposing hurlers in the Valley league this year will have to get them over when they are pitching to Gaffke.

Keene put up a classy game at short stop Sunday. He fielded in fine style and showed a strong whip to first base. Keene appears to be in for a good year, both in the field and at the plate.

LEOPOLD IS STAR
Leopold will hold down the hot corner for Appleton in fine style. He steps everything that comes his way and covers a lot of territory. Leopold is an exceptionally heavy hitter and his war club is sure to be a big factor in many Appleton victories in the 1922 pennant race.

Lidke is playing his regular consistent game in left field and will undoubtedly be a star this year. He covers a great deal of territory, is a sure fielder and has a nice whip. Lidke is hitting well and because of his speed and his ability to get on base will be the lead off man in the Appleton batting order.

Durain in center field shows much improvement over his work of last year. He takes a savage cut at the ball and as a fielder cannot be beaten in the Valley circuit. Manager Murphy expects Durain to go great this season.

BEYER COVERS GROUND
Beyer in right covers a wide stretch of territory and gathers in every ball hit his way. He is a strong hitter and should average well over the .300 mark this season.

Appleton fans who saw the men in action Saturday were well pleased with the work of the club. The team has both offensive and defensive strength and is sure to be a factor in the Fox River Valley league pennant race this year.

GOLF FANS WANT MUNICIPAL LINKS

Chamber of Commerce Official Offers to Call Meeting of Advocates

Secretary Hugh G. Corbett of the chamber of commerce has offered to take the first step toward crystallizing golf sentiment in Appleton into a movement for municipal links. All persons interested in public links are asked to give their names to Mr. Corbett or to the Post-Crescent editorial office. A meeting then will be called if the response is liberal enough and the golfing possibilities will be talked over.

There is more talk this spring than ever before for city-owned golf grounds, and more men than ever seem to be interested in this form of summer recreation. Business men, clerks and others who depend on some form of sport for their exercise are talking the project.

Purchase of Pierce park last year probably was one of the factors that stimulated the golfing desire, because it was believed land enough was available to arrange links. It has been found out since that the park is so small and other arrangements would be necessary.

Comprehensive suggestions for establishing municipal links are contained in a report prepared last year by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States for Appleton, through its civic development department. Mr. Corbett will submit this report to the meeting of golf fans if it is called.

Sedalia, Mo.—Johnny Layton, three-cushion billiard champion, won the first block of a match with Charlie McCourt, challenger of Pittsburg.

BROWNS TAKE LEAD IN PENNANT CHASE

St. Louis Americans Take Fourth Straight Game from Cleveland Club

St. Louis — The Browns moved into first place in the American league pennant race Monday, winning their fourth straight game from Cleveland, 13 to 2, while Cleveland was being defeated by Boston. Score: Cleveland . . . 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0—2 9 2 St. Louis . . . 0 2 6 0 0 2 3 x—13 18 1 Batteries: Thie, Lindsay, Potts, and O'Neil; Kolp and Severid.

DENNY TO LEAVE NEENAH SCHOOL

Neenah — Walter Jonas of La Crosse, 23, graduate of La Crosse high school and a member of the graduating class of '22 at the La Crosse Normal school in the department of physical education, has been appointed as athletic coach and gym instructor of the Neenah high school for the year 1922-1923, succeeding Coach A. C. Denny, who will not return to Neenah next year.

Mr. Denny is undecided as to where he will go next year, but has had several splendid offers from larger schools, including one state university and a school in a large middle west metropolis. He will spend the summer at Illinois' university where he will take special training in basketball coaching.

GIANTS LEAD LINCOLN SOFT BALL TOURNAMENT

The Giants, with an average of .500, are leading in the soft ball league ball tournament being conducted in Lincoln school. Reports were posted Monday. The Giants won four games and lost three. The Tigers are second with an average of .750, the Yankees have a standing of .400 and the Cubs hold cellar position with an average of .166. Games are played daily during morning and afternoon recesses.

HUGGINS MAN OF MUCH GRIEF IN BOSSING YANKS

Nursing Panthers Would be Restful Job for New York Club Manager

By Henry L. Farrell
New York — After he gets too old and feeble to baseball, Miller Huggins ought to retire to some restful pastime of peace like nursing panthers from a milk bottle.

His experiences with the New York Tanks gives him all the qualifications. The theories of the little trainer of wild ones are well shown by his attitude in the case of Waite Hoyt, the boy pitcher who took a sock at him after Saturday's game.

"The incident is closed as far as I am concerned," Huggins said. "Hoyt is young and headstrong and he had just lost a tough game. Similar things have happened to me in the past."

Huggins didn't even report the occurrence to his bosses so it is likely that Carl Mays got for showing his displeasure by throwing a ball over the grand stand.

The Yanks are a peaceful family. Ruth and Mays don't speak to each other. Ruth will condescend to pass the time of the day with Huggins just because Mays will not. Two of the "five star" pitching staff are out-and-out enemies of the manager and so on.

Problems are all that Huggins has experienced since he assembled the greatest collection of temperamental prima donnas in the history of opera and baseball and they are still coming.

He has so many star pitchers that he's like the old woman in the shoe. He can't work them in order and he has been forced to the extremity of pitching one of them a full game in the bull pen to keep them in condition.

Memphis — Pal Moore won over "Kid" Pancho in eight rounds.

NEW YORK AGAIN DEFEATS BRAVES

Giants Continue Heavy Hitting and Take Easy Victory, 10 to 3

Boston — New York continued its heavy hitting Monday and defeated Boston by a score of 10 to 3. Score: New York . . . 0 0 0 5 0 0 1 4—10 14 3 Boston . . . 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 1—3 6 2 Batteries: — J. Barnes and Smith; Oeschger, McGullin, Morgan and Gowdy.

DODGERS BLANK PHILS
Brooklyn — Harry Shriver, rookie pitcher, hurled great baseball Monday and Brooklyn blanked Philadelphia 2 to 0. Score: Philadelphia . . . 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 3 3 Brooklyn . . . 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 x—2 6 0 Batteries: Smith and Henline; Shriver and Hurling.

PIRATES DEFEAT REDS
Cincinnati — Staging a rally in the eighth inning that netted them two runs the Pirates defeated the Reds, 7 to 5, here Monday. Score: Pittsburgh . . . 2 0 0 2 1 0 0 2—7 11 2 Cincinnati . . . 5 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—6 9 1 Batteries: Morrison, Adams, Hamilton and Gooch; Luque, Gillespie and Wingo.

IF THIS PLAY COMES UP
Here's Your Decision

If a thrown ball strikes a coacher on foot ground the ball is considered in play and base runners advance at their peril. However, if the umpire is the opinion that the coacher intentionally interferes with such thrown ball, the runner or runners must be stopped at the base last touched. The coacher is penalized by his removal from the field.

"Y" PREPARING FOR BIGGEST NET YEAR

May Bid for State Tennis Tournament if Interest in Sport is Manifest

With possibilities that the state tennis tournament will be staged in Appleton this year and with interest in the net sport increasing, the Y. M. C. A. expects to have the biggest enrollment in history in its tennis club. A dozen applications were made the moment formation of the club was announced and more are coming in daily.

Oshkosh players have assured co-operation of their tennis club in staging the big state tourney if Appleton Y. M. C. A. will bid for it. It is understood that this city has only to give its consent to obtain the cup race, according to R. H. Starkey, physical director of the Y. M. C. A.

An enrollment fee of $8 has been adopted by the club for those who are not members of the Y. M. C. A. This includes privileges of the association, representing a $5 membership fee in the Y. M. C. A. and $3 for the tennis club enrollment. Applications are being received at the "Y" desk. Preparation of courts for the season is under way. The fences are being repaired and the courts raked clear of stones and rubbish. Treatment then will be given with a roller and the courts marked out. Games are expected to be under way before the end of the week.

When You Score A Ball Game
REMEMBER—

In no case shall a base hit be scored when a base runner is forced out by the play. For example, with a runner on first, the batsman hits short fly which runner on first believes will be caught. The ball falls safe but the runner on first is forced to second.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN TO BUY NORTH PARK

Campaign Workers Meet at 8 O'Clock to Receive Working Instructions

Preparations for the drive for $15,000 for Appleton's share of Northern Lakes park purchase will be whipped into final shape at a meeting of 120 campaign workers at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in the Sherman house dining room. This will be the first get-together event for all workers. There will be no dinner in connection with it.
Captains of the 20 teams were scurrying around Tuesday signing up the remainder of their workers in readiness for the meeting. Many of the teams had their quota of men Tuesday morning and the remainder were to be listed during the day.
Detailed instructions will be given the campaigners, together with a comprehensive idea of the importance of the park purchase. They will be familiarized with its location, its natural advantages and the features which make it an ideal touring center for autoists seeking recreation in the virgin lake region of the north.
Approximately 2,500 names of prospective subscribers have been listed, including many owners of automobiles. Most of these prospects will be assigned to teams and in turn to workers. Active solicitation probably will start Monday, with report luncheons at noon each day.
Results in other parts of the state where similar campaigns are in progress will be announced. Milwaukee has its drive on this week and it is said to be highly successful.

YELLOWSTONE TRAIL OFFICIAL COMING HERE

H. O. Cooley, general manager of Yellowstone Trail association, Inc., will visit Appleton Monday, May 8, on his way north from Chicago, according to word received by the chamber of commerce. A public meeting will be arranged on that date among supporters of the trail, with the retail merchants' division of the chamber in charge. Mr. Cooley will present matters of interest concerning the Yellowstone trail, which passes through Appleton. He has spoken here.
